NIGHT

The overnight flight

United States to London Heathrow · Free

> 11:40 in London is 03:40 at home. Your body will think the conference is happening in the middle of the night, because it is. Sleep on the plane even badly, and do not plan to work on it.

02 Two Rooms and a Museum · Friday, November 13 · the whole trip, in nine hours · SE1 at two, NW1 at five, WC1 at half six

Land, and do one thing first

London Heathrow · Free

> Palm Springs or LAX to London Heathrow. You are travelling alone, so nobody is holding a seat, watching a bag or waking you up. Aisle seat, and tell one person at home your flight number and your two event addresses before you board. · About 11 hours

> If immigration runs long you lose conference time, not storage time. The bag still gets dropped. Walking into central London with a suitcase on this particular day is the one decision you ca

Heathrow terminals, run by Excess Baggage Company · £15

> Inside your arrivals terminal. Clear the eGates, collect your case, then follow signs for Baggage Storage or Left Luggage rather than heading straight for the trains. Ask at an information desk if you cannot see a sign, because the location is not published online. · 10 to 20 min

> You land at 11:40 Friday and fly at 10:45 Saturday, which is just under 24 hours, so you are in the £15 band if you drop it promptly and collect it promptly. Book online at left-baggag

12:40 PM

Heathrow to Southwark

Elizabeth line to Bond Street, Jubilee line to Southwark · Free

> 1. From your terminal follow signs to the Elizabeth line (purple). Platforms are under T2&3, under T4 Arrivals and in the T5 basement.2. Take any eastbound train, 28 minutes, and get off at Bond Street.3. Follow signs to the Jubilee line (silver), southbound, platform direction Stratford.4. Ride four stops: Green Park, Westminster, Waterloo, Southwark. Get off at Southwark.5. Exit the station and you are a six minute walk from both lunch and the conference. · About 45 min

> Skip Heathrow Express. It is £26 walk-up, it only reaches Paddington, and you would still have to change. The Elizabeth line costs half and goes where you are going.

13:20 PM

Lunch at The Africa Centre

Restaurant by Little Baobab, The Africa Centre, 66-68 Great Suffolk Street SE1 0BL · £20

> From Southwark station. Leave by the main exit onto Blackfriars Road, turn right, then take the first left into Great Suffolk Street. The Africa Centre is on your left at number 66 to 68. If you overshoot you will hit Southwark Bridge Road. · 5 to 7 min

> The Africa Centre's own homepage carries posts from its CEO saying the Centre has temporarily closed its doors. The posts are undated and their visit pages would not load when I checked, and

Action on Male Suicide: London

Coin Street Neighbourhood Centre, 108 Stamford Street SE1 9NH · Free

> From The Africa Centre. Head back up Great Suffolk Street to Blackfriars Road, turn left and walk north toward the river, then turn left into Stamford Street. Coin Street Neighbourhood Centre is at number 108, on the south side. All flat, all lit, no crossings that matter. · About 10 min

> You will miss the research keynote and nothing can fix that. Dr Susie Bennett presents Why do men die by suicide? from 10:30 to 12:30 and you land at 11:40. Email her before you fly instead

The ninety minute gap

South Bank to Euston Road · Free

> 1. From Coin Street walk west along Stamford Street, about 7 minutes, to Waterloo station.2. Follow signs to the Northern line (black), northbound, Charing Cross branch, platform direction Edgware or High Barnet.3. Ride seven stops: Embankment, Charing Cross, Leicester Square, Tottenham Court Road, Goodge Street, Warren Street, Euston.4. Leave Euston by the main entrance and walk west along Euston Road for about 5 minutes. Wellcome Collection is number 183, on your right, a big stone building you cannot miss. · About 25 min

> If the afternoon session is gripping, stay. Wellcome then becomes a thirty minute stop instead of seventy five, and it is still worth it. The one thing that cannot move is 18:30 at Birkbeck.
